

The aim of the Hadley's Art Prize social media accounts in Instagram and Facebook is to create awareness about the prize, the exhibition events, the judging panel and the finalists and the winners to the local community.

We are committed to creating a community that encourages self-expression and mirrors the values of the Prize, including respect for the rights, dignity, safety and property of others. We ask that you do your part to help us achieve this goal.

Our House Rules

We believe in celebrating artistic achievement and ask our users to be kind and respectful when commenting on our social media posts.

We may remove content that we deem to be:

- misleading, false or offensive
- inflammatory
- defamatory
- threatening, abusive, obscene, indecent, or objectionable
- discriminatory or hateful towards a certain group of people or individuals
- unsolicited commercial or promotional references to a third-party website or is self-promoting spam
- illegal
- bullying and harassment
- violates copyright or intellectual property rights or laws
- comprising a person's privacy
- not relevant to the themes currently being discussed

Hours of operation:

Please note that the Hadley's Art Prize social media accounts are not monitored 24 hours a day.

Our social media accounts will be checked 3-4 times per week.

We reserve the right to remove any content or block users that violate our community guidelines, or that we determine are otherwise offensive to our community.

All content must also comply with Instagram and Facebook's policies.

We retain the right to amend our present House Rules at any time.